Diet & Allergy advisory

your well-being is important to us. If you have a food allergy or diet, please notify your server immediately, so that we may let you know if your food contains that ingredient or not. Although our kitchen is very careful and considerate, providing foods that are 100% free of certain allergens is not something that we can guarantee; there is always a risk of cross-contamination. Thank you for your understanding! Additional tips; we currently have two fryers for fish & meat and veggies. So we do not separate wheat free tempuras from Non-wheat free.
